

The Love Principles

A Guide for Getting the Love You Deserve

Think of What You Desire

Renew your mind and keep your thoughts on what you want. Make your wishes known to the heavens and think of them with a spirit of expectation. Remember wanting and expecting are two different things. Fix your heart on the fact that your desires are definitely going to happen.

Wake up With Enthusiasm

Love is a very high energy. If you want it, you have to move like it's coming. Start your day off with a vibe that says, "I'm ready Love, come and get me."

Get Away from the Skeptics

The fastest way to kill your love dream is to be around someone who poisons your belief. If you're around toxic people, run for your life. If you can't leave the situation, stop telling them about your vision for amazing romance.

Acknowledge Love

If you want to attract more love into your life be sure that you whisper a "Thank you" when you see something loving. If you see a couple holding hands, a mother hugging her son, or even two birds in flight: Tell the heavens you see love and that you're grateful. You'll attract love faster when you appreciate the love that's right in front of you.

Remember You Are a Gift

Develop a mindset that you're a blessing. You are not coming from a place of arrogance; you are coming from a place of grace. Love on others with the knowledge that when you give others the gift of love, spiritual law dictates that it must come back to you.
